DEEP SHAFT AND EQUIPMENT MEAN ECONOMY.

The situation at the Lower Mammoth mine yesterday indicated that Super-Intendent E. C. Coffin's promise to reach the 2,000-foot level by Nov. I would be fulfilled almost to the min-ditions. I would be fulfilled almost to the minute. Only a few feet of sinking remained to be done to reach the place or permanent betterment of market conditions.

Issues, trading in which is confined to the local market, are yet little affected by favorable developments. Winning of where will be cut the station for the 2,000 level.

The shaft is of two compartments and manway, and it is equipped with compressor and hoist of capacity for 2,500 feet. The work of enlarging the old single-compartment shaft, which was 1,200 feet deep, was begun last Dec. 14, and sinking from the 1,200 level was not under way until the last of April. The shaft is said to be one of the best in the Tintic district, and the time in which it has been constructed is a record.

With the completing of the shaft to the 2,000 level will be begun in earnest the work of opening the known ore bodies at depth. For some time the driving of drifts westward on the 1,700 and 1,800 levels and east on the 1,800 has been in progress without interfering with the sinking, so that it slikely to be only a short time until interesting ore disclosures will be reported from Lower Mammoth.

The east drift on the 1,800 level is The east drift on the 1.806 level is headed for the east vein, which yielded the production of high-grade ore made in the early history of the mine. The The east drift on the 1.800 level is headed for the east vein, which yielded the production of high-grade ore made in the early history of the mine. The vein was worked only to the 1.200 level. Already the drift has crosscut one break carrying ore, and it is confidently expected that large bodies of good ore will be found in the main break in that direction.

trading was without special feature and the tendency was toward lower levels. Colorado was relatively strong the last of the week, and Iron Blossom and Sioux Consolidated about held their own under rather active demand. In the west vein, which provided the In the west vein, which provided the later large production, the existence of ore in paying quantities below the 1,700-level was proved before the enlarging and sinking deeper of the main shaft, while just before sinking was begun, lessees opened a new shoot of shipping ore on the 1,100 level, 100 feet south of the shaft. The lessees had taken out ten tons of the ore when their work had to be stopped on account of the shaft work being in progress.

Sinking the shaft to the 2,000-foot level means the making of a new mine in Lower Mammoth, not only in the in Lower Mammoth, not only in the way of opening new ore bodies but in making it possible to mine in the lower levels with a measure of economy which should mean larger and more regular dividends than have been paid in the past.

perhaps, the salutary effect of the recovery of the zinc metal market. When zinc, following the late panic, went below $5 a hundred pounds, the Scranton mine ceased producing zinc ore, but with the price of the metal around $6.25 production of that kind of ore again beduction of that kind of ore again becomes highly profitable. The Scranton has for some time been producing at the rate of 500 tons of zinc ore and 100 tons of lead ore a month, and it is likely that the production will be materially increased.

Its zinc ore carries about 35 per cent zinc and only 1 per cent lead, making an exceptionally good product to ship to the zinc smelters. The freight rate to the smelters of the Kansas gas belt is about $7 a ton.

OCTOBER SALES BELOW MILLION AT WORK IN EAST

Work of Making New Mine in Trading in Mining Stocks Is Makes 18 Feet a Day in Badly Light-Outside Issues Are Broken Ground, Says the Inventor.

> The Karns tunneling machine, with For the first time since February, 1908, the total of a month's business on the local mining stock exchange has fallen below the $1,000,000 mark, the value of the a water supply tunnel 4,800 feet long in of the vein which is enabling the below the $1,000,000 mark, the value of the 2,464,491 shares which changed hands during October having been only $863,488.37. Few flurries came to disturb the quiet induced by a constantly falling market, and the effect of the flurries was of shorter duration than usual. The new movement in the cheaper Ely stocks is the only diversion which has given promise of permanent betterment of market congruences.

The management has been slow to give out news concerning the progress that was being made in the hope of soon getting into solid formation, where the machine could be "turned loose" to make a record that would show what it can do under favorable circumstances. The ground it has been in up to this time is filled with slides and slips, loose rock and boulders—just the kind of ground which experts have feared would prove the undoing of the new invention. Many have contended, in fact, that it would never be able to do satisfactory work except in perfectly regular formation.

Cause for such apprehension has been fully dispelled, it is pointed out, by the machine's making approximately 18 feet a day where four and five feet a day would be excellent work with ordinary machine drills.

The ground became so bad recently that it became necessary to discontinue driving while the work already accomplished was being concreted. This necessitated a closedown of 21 days. Drilling was resumed only last Tuesday, and it is the record of work done since that time, received yesterday by Mr. Bescher, which shows progress averaging six feet a shift of eight hours. The management has been slow to Ground Is Worst Possible.

It has been believed that the limit of the broken ground was nearly reached when the closedown took place, but Mr. Davis, the inventor, wired that the machine was yet poking its way through the worst ground he, as an old miner, had ever seen. Within slides of broken rock, in places are boulders ten and twelve feet thick, through which the machine has cut a clean round hole. Dr. Davis is hoping to encounter the solid formation with any shift, after which he is confident of making a showing that will surprise the world. The tunnel engine and all equipment is working perfectly, he says, and he is impatient to be doing "real work."

SIOUX SURE TO PAY REGULAR DIVIDEND

"Some people have been talking a good deal about Sioux Consolidated being unable to pay any more dividends, but there is nothing in it," said Colonel C. E. Loose, general manager of the company, who was in the city yesterday. "Stoping the last month has been in ore of somewhat lower grade than the best ore—something which is to be expected at intervals in any large ore body—but the tonnage has been increased so that there is no danger of reduction of the dividend rate."

Smelter settlements yesterday, re-ported by McCornick & Co.: Ores, $ $40,000; bullion, $00,000. Total for the week, $584,500.

Grand Central has a great mine in the new country it has recently opened west of its shaft, wholly regardless of the known valuable resources which are known to remain in the old workings, is the opinion of W. S. McCornick after having made a personal inspection of the showing in the new territory. Mr. McCornick, with other well known mining men, visited the Grand Central mine Friday, and he and they were yesterday inclined to be enthusiastic over what they had seen.

"Grand Central's new ore channel"

"Grand Central's new ore channel," said Mr. McCornick, "is something like 700 feet west of the old one, with a parallel strike. It has been opened on the 2,000 and 2,100 levels. On the lower level it was encountered about 100 feet west of the shaft and a drift has been run upon it about 100 feet. On the 2,000 level about the same amount of drifting has been done, and in addition several raises have been driven—one of them being up ave been driven-one of them being up

50 feet, "The ore is continuous and regular in dues wherever opened and it is as good the faces of the drifts and in the top of the highest raise as it is anywhere else. The ore body varies from four feet to 15 feet in thickness and the average values, as nearly as I could judge from the assay sheets, would be about $10 in gold, 60 ounces in silver and 15 per cent The ore body is so strong at that great depth, where it is proven for at least 150 feet vertically, that I should think there could be no question that it would extend virtually to the surface and for a long distance below the 2,100-foot level, while the strike of the vein is several thousand feet in Grand Central ground. Chance for New Channel.

"The feature of the new strike which impressed me the most forcibly of all, perhaps, is that the ore channel is within a great belt of ore-bearing lime precisely like that in the Centennial-Eureka, as is generally known, the lime belt is in places 469 feet and 500 feet across. On its 2,000-foot level Grand Central has extended a cross-cut 200 feet into the limestone. a cross-cut 200 feet into the limestone, west of the new ore body. The limestone carries about four ounces in silver and some gold.

The conditions are highly favorable for encountering another ore channel. The cross-cut would have 1,000 feet to go to get out of Grand Central ground.

"Grand Central has not only a new mine in the new territory, but it is a great mine, with every chance for additional disclosures of the utmost importance."

Pull the third lever to the right until the bell rings. It's a vote for fusion and honest city government.
